Woodley Park News

WPCA and Stanford are putting together a Woodley Park residents' art show at the Stanford gallery. The show should open in late April and run for a couple of months. If you live in the neighborhood and create art (painting, photography, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, fabrics etc) that you might like included in the show, please let me know. If you know of any neighborhood artists who might not get this email, either pass it on to them or send me their email addresses.

The DC Federation of Citizens Associations will hold a program called DC Taxes: What You Get for What You Give featuring Eric Goulet, the mayor's budget director; Elissa Silverman, DC budget analyst, DC Fiscal Policy Institute; and Jennifer Budoff, Council budget director (invited). Tuesday March 27, 6:45 to 9 pm at All Souls Memorial Episcopal Church, 2300 Cathedral Avenue.

WPCA members will be asked to vote on changes to the Association's Bylaws at a general meeting on Wednesday May 2nd (speakers and other details to follow). The changes recommended by the Executive Committee, with an explanation, are on the website.

By and By, the bluegrass band known to many for its Tuesday evening front porch shows on Woodley Place, just won First Prize in the Best Band Competition at the 3rd Annual DC Bluegrass Festival, held by the DC Bluegrass Union.

If you'd like a spreadsheet of the house-by-house property tax assessment changes over the past three years, let me know.

Calendar

The next meeting of the WPCA Executive Committee is Wednesday April 11th (a week later than usual) at Stanford starting at 7:30. The agenda will be on the website a few days before the meeting.
