Woodley Park News

OP will discuss its draft Connecticut Ave Development Guidelines with us via Zoom this Thursday, May 4, at 6:30. A copy of the draft is on the website. The document contemplates adding seven stories to the CVS building at the corner of Calvert and to the three buildings just south of the Metro entrance. The draft includes a long section on attractive streetscape improvements, but it does not propose to have the government implement any of them; rather, OP wants them to be used by private parties when designing projects in the area. Comments on the draft may be provided by May 26 via OP's website.

Save the date for the annual Woodley Park picnic. Saturday June 10, 4 to 7 pm, in the park on Cortland Pl. David Ensign needs volunteers to grill, cut watermelons etc, pick up ice, set up, take down etc. Let him know if you can help.

Calendar

The DC Tax Revision Commission, chaired by former Mayor Anthony Williams, is reviewing DC's tax system with an eye toward proposing changes to the Mayor and Council. It is inviting members of the public to a virtual town hall to hear what they think about the District's tax system. Thursday May 4 at 6:30 pm. Participants can register here.

Registration is open for the Woodley House 5K Run, Walk and Roll, Saturday May 6 at 8 am. It will be held on streets (closed for the event) in Rock Creek Park near Carter Barron Amphitheatre. Parking will be available near the race start.

The next Tuesday Talk features Joe Alonso, head mason of Washington National Cathedral, who will provide "A View from the Top," an illustrated history of the construction of the Cathedral, including the years of construction, restoration, stone carving following damage after the earthquake. May 9 at 7 pm at the Library. Seating is limited, so register early. Masks are strongly encouraged.
