Woodley Park News

Parking in CP. DDoT has issued its notice of intention to change the parking rules near the CP business district. The existing two-hour metered parking zones on the 3300-3400 blocks of Connecticut Avenue and adjacent streets (35 spaces) will become 30-minute metered parking zones. Nearby residential and unregulated parking zones will also become 30-minute metered areas. Shorter periods will increase turnover, giving more people access. However, 30 minutes isn't enough time for a meal or multiple errands. You can learn more and tell DDoT what you think by October 20.

Rats are a nagging problem in the neighborhood. Some neighbors put together hints on how you can help.

Work should begin later this week to restore the bricks on the exterior of the Stanford building. There will be scaffolding covering the sidewalk on the Woodley Rd side and some parking spaces will temporarily be lost to staging activities.

Woodley Park Card Night. There will be two tables for bridge (beginner and more experienced), as well as tables for hearts and spades. Tables will be organized at the beginning of the night, and extra players will be rotated in so all can get a chance to play. Feel free to bring a board game if that's your preference. Thursday September 21 from 6:30 to 8:30 (late arrivals welcome) at St Thomas Church (entrance on 27th St). Send questions and RSVPs indicating choice of game here.

Tuesday Talk. The first talk of the new season features two of the Founding Mothers of NPR, Susan Stamberg and Linda Wertheimer, in discussion with Linda Winslow, former Executive Producer of the PBS NewsHour, talking about their experiences in the early days at NPR – they both joined at its inception in 1971 — and how radio news has changed since then. Tuesday September 19 at the CP Library. Seating is limited, so register early.

Mark your calendars for the Zoo's Panda Palooza: A Giant Farewell, Sept. 23 to Oct. 1. Details to follow.
