Woodley Park News

You can see JBG's latest draft proposal for the Marriott Wardman Park property here. I suspect it will change before JBG files its application for a planned unit development later this month. JBG has set up a website for this project; sign up to receive info about it. I'd suggest that you not comment on draft plans; wait til we see what it formally proposes.

Library. In order to save money, the latest plan for the new library's interior eliminates the large basement meeting room. This would reduce the indoor meeting and assembly space to 1663 square feet, less than the current library has. After community complaints, DCPL officials have indicated that additional upstairs meeting space will be created, but they haven't indicated what other areas would be reduced to provide this meeting space. WPCA and other neighborhood groups have asked for CM Cheh's help in finding the funds required to restore the basement meeting room.

WPCA Community Service Day with St. Thomas Apostle. There will be several different service projects, including making care kits for homeless children, decorating gifts for children staying at NIH's Children's Inn. This is great for family volunteering, and all are welcome. If you are able to volunteer, contact St Thomas Young Adults. Saturday April 23, 10 am to noon.

In recognition of National Police Week, the MPD 2d District Citizens Advisory Council will host its annual lunch for 2d District police on Thursday May 12. If you're interested in volunteering or providing baked goods, send an email here.

At its meeting last week, WPCA considered whether to protest the alcohol license renewals of two neighborhood restaurants as a way to get them to address the complaints about the noise from their sidewalk cafes. The owners of both restaurants (Hot N Juicy on Connecticut and Bar Civita on 24th St) have been responsive to these concerns, so WPCA did not authorize license protests.

Calendar
